HOME EC. CLUB HAS INITIATION

Aprons, Frying Pans, and Egg Beaters Serve to Identify New Members.

"Knock, knock!"
"Who's there?"
"The Spirit of Home Economics."

Thus one by one, eight members of the newly organized Home Ec. club were received into the sacred figure and led to a candle-lit room. Here they gave their reference to the principles of home economics and were initiated.

Next morning, Nov. 19, what was the surprise of Wartburg to behold 10 apron-covered maidens parading in the chapel with frying pans and egg beaters. And upon being told that it was initiation by a home-ec song to the tune of "Solomon Levi."

Lillian Rupprecht heads the organization, with Wilma Burmeek, vice president and Verona Koch, secretary. Miss Anne Schoen is sponsor.

HILTNER FORMS TRAINING CLASS

S. S. Teachers from Four Congregations Meet in Readlyn for Class.

Professor John Hiltner of Wartburg college is conducting a Sunday school teachers' training course at Readlyn, town each Wednesday evening as part of the extension work of the school.

About 30 teachers are in the prospective teachers from four congregations are attending the interweek course. Introduction to Sunday School Teaching is the report for the first time Nov. 19, in the Zion Lutheran church of Readlyn, Rev. E. L. Arbeiter, pastor.

Another group of Sunday school teachers formed a similar study group with Orlowin as their center, and met Dec. 3 for the first time. President T. J. Braulick is conducting this course.

These courses offered by the college are approved by the Board of Christian Education, Department of our church, and credit towards a Sunday school teacher's certificate is being given by the church.

Henry Koch, college junior, who has been in the University hospital, Iowa City, for the past two weeks, has made little improvement. The medical staff at the hospital has not been able to give any report as to the nature of Mr. Koch's ailment.

FORTRESS PLANS TAKE ON FORM

Pictures Individual and Group Will Be Taken After the Holidays

Work on the Fortress, the college annual, is moving forward slowly. A new system and editorial-in-chief expects that all pictures will be completed by Christmas vacation. Individual pictures of the year, of student organizations, underclass and group pictures will then be taken. As yet no contracts have been signed.

The Fortress carnival held in October netted about forty-five dollars which will be used toward defraying the expenses of the publication.

The snapshot staff has been taking pictures of the campus and buildings. An office and assembly room in the basement has been given to Lutther hall.

Arnold Karsten, editor-in-chief, and Miss Helen Wragtt are the faculty members of the staff. Miss Ruth Hoefner is in charge of the art department. Previous plans of the Fortress staff have been announced by Gladys Walter. Kelso as solicitor-manager and Herbert Aden as business manager.

LESCHENSKY IS CHOSEN AS SEC.

Students from Twenty-eight Colleges Attend Lutheran Student Conference.

Eugene Leschensky was elected alumni secretary for the coming year at the Land of Lakes Regional conference of the Lutheran Student Association, Nov. 20-22. The meeting held at the Salem Lutheran church, St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 20-22 was attended by 323 persons, delegates and visitors from twenty-eight colleges and universities, Wartburg in Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and Iowa were represented.

The other students from Wartburg who attended the conference were Ruth Gebrecke, Hildegarde Hoffmann, and Ruth Ann Dau. This was the first time Wartburg had attended the Land of Lakes Student meetings. As such it was a success. The attendance and attention received by having one of its members elected.

The conference theme "Learning to Live With Others" was used in the various speeches and student discussions. Dr. Theodore Graebner's address, "Learning to Live with Others" "Learning to Live With Ourselves" and Dr. Mc Kay, vice president of Northwestern Seminary, followed on the theme. Leadership supper held on the evening of Nov. 21. Seventeen delegates from all colleges were introduced at the gathering. Each group responded with their school song.

At the conference meeting Saturday evening the newly elected officers were installed by Dr. J. Pirus of Luther college Decorah, Iowa. Miss Ruth Ann Dau of Dobeth of Iowa State Teachers' college, Cedar Falls, Iowa of Superior, Wis., was the main speaker at the banquet with her his topic "Learning to Live With Others" "Learning to Live With God" was the theme of the Rev. Hatswedt preached at the closing service of the convention.

Entertainment for the delegates consisted of a mixer conducted by the Gustavus chapter of the association, a football game between Gustavus and LaCrosse, and a sight-seeing trip.

FACULTY ATTEND CONFERENCE FOR CHURCH SCHOOLS

Lutheran Instructors Gather at Rock Island.

Ten members of the Wartburg college faculty spent part of their Thanksgiving vacation attending the second annual conference of Lutheran college pupils held at the Augustana college, Rock Island, Ill., Nov. 26-28.

Up to seniors from 21 Lutheran schools in the Pacific to the Atlantic coasts were represented at the meeting. Members of the Wartburg Lutheran conference, the United Lutheran church, and the Norwegian Synod were represented.

President E. J. Braulick, Dr. O. J. Neumann, Professor A. D. Colvin, Professor A. W. Kramer, Professor A. A. Aandal, Professor Carl Lindy, Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Hecht, Miss Katherine Kaasel, and Miss Marie Schoen were present at the majority of the meetings.

Members of the American Lutheran church played the important part in the program. On Friday morning, Dr. Dr. Paul C. Schuette of Pennsylvania and Dr. Paul Peters of Capital University of Columbus, Ohio, presented the two main addresses of the day. In the afternoon, President Braulick presided at a Parliamentary Law session. Professor Colvin was the leader of the session. Prof. Swenson of the Augustana college headed the lecture group, while Dean Neumann led the discussion of the Homiletics and Social Sciences.

Dr. Peters, Dean Wolf Schuette and Dr. Mees occupied most of the Friday morning session which followed the opening devotion led by Professor Aandal. Dr. Mees's group discussions dealing with the Christian Education of Youth, and topics at a college. Three addresses were given after the meeting and the discussions continued on Saturday morning.

Friday evening a fellowship banquet was held in the college dining hall with the Senior Sisters of Augsburg Seminary, Minneapolis, Minn., as guests of the principal address. The session on Friday evening was given a resolution to discontinue the seminars which have been held at Chicago and Minneapolis was adopted.

President Braulick, voicing the opinion of the Wartburg group, declared it was a very inspiring meeting. He also stated that many of the members were very pleased with the plan of the social events and large number of students attending.

The next conference will be held, will be held at Luther college, Decorah, Iowa.

The men of St. Paul's Lutheran church held a father and son banquet in the recreation hall of the college building, Thursday evening, Dec. 3. Dr. G. J. Neumann acted as chairman of the program which followed the meal. About 150 guests were present.

"Tons of Money" to Be Presented Dec. 11

Graening Gives Toward Library Reading Supply

Wartburg college library has received a number of contributions in the last few weeks.

Dr. C. H. Graening has completed seven files of magazines with back numbers that were previously engaged. These books were also given "The Return to Geniet" by H. L. Mencken, "Letters" by R. A. Millikan, and "Your Money's Worth" by Chase and Schlink. The New York Times Index is either brought up to date week by Dr. Graening. The art department has also received a number of pictures from him.

Mrs. Emma Boss has given the library the book "Herder" by Eugene Kuehnemann.

The monthly copies of the "Nation" and the "New Republic" for nines have been added to the magazine stock by Dr. J. Pirus, Jr.

The Association for Distribution of Missionary Literature presented a sum of $15 to supply the library with missionary literature.

HERTELMEN ARE DINNER GUESTS

Twenty Knights Climax Football Activity With An Enjoyable Evening.

Thor-brightly beaming fires which shone about the campus fire, Wartburg's gridsters were feasted to the Knights of the Round Table banquet in the dining hall Tuesday evening. The entire squad-members to a dinner in honor of Coach Henry C. Hertel.

Dean A. E. Fritz and Prof. J. C. Chelsvold also enjoyed the meal with the players. Dr. Fritz called Arnold Kuester displayed the football sweaters earned by the letter men and presented them to the men.

The Knights wish to express their appreciation to Coach Hertel for his generosity and kindness to them.

"Madame Butterfly" Featured at Lyceum

Madame LaBelle gave a dramatization of "Madame Butterfly" at the Lyceum number given in the Cedar Opera Company, Monday evening, Nov. 30, in the college gymnasium.

Assisted in the company were Gene Gaudio, violinist, of the Chicago Opera company; Gyorgy Gumpre Lazarenus, tenor, from the Royal Opera of Budapest, Europe, colorature, of the Boston Opera company, and Mr. Bruce Bradley, pianist. The Cedar Opera company Orchestra also assisted in the program. Madame LaBelle was attended by a much large audience than at previous programs.

Additional Equipment Comes from Clinton

Wartburg hall has at its disposal numerous pieces of furniture. A recent gift was received from Clinton, Iowa, where Wartburg college was formerly located.

Three davenports, four library tables, a dining room table, fourteen a baby grand piano, and a upright piano have been added to reception and recreation rooms now installed in the basement. Furniture has been stored in closets for future use of students. Pictures will be placed in the library of the college building.

Wildemar Langholz has announced that additional appointments for the college museum will be very welcome. Mr. Langholz who is curator of the museum, is a skilled taxidermist and will mount specimens of animals of any kind sent in.

Miss Gladys Bauer visited at her home in Jesup, Ia., Dec. 5 and 6.

DRAMATIC CLUB TO PRESENT STAGE PRODUCTION

LAUGHS BY THE TONS ASSURED

Ten Wartburg Students Star in Initial Farcial Production.

Rehearsals are being held every evening for the initial dramatic production of the year, "Tons of Money" which will be given Dec. 11, in the college gymnasium.

Leonard Dosh, Waverly; Aubrey Henry Muhlenkamp Allington and Waldemar Langholz, Waverly are among those students who are trying for the parts in the farcial comedy. George Bernard Shaw's famous saying, "The play was proposed by my wife, Louise Allington, played by Miss Plotter. In order to plan the fortune left him by his brother who died in the war, he marries Miss Allington.

The fortune Willy Langholz, is also being mistaken for Albert Schumacher, representative of the courts of Aubrey, who will receive the money upon the death of Aubrey.

The love-making of Leonard Dosh and Evelyn Klein, as Sheldon, the butler, and Simpson, the maid, will be one of the main attractions. Glen portrayed by Martin Ackermann, is the son of Sheldon. Through the cook, who will not permit him to enter the kitchen, he gets his endeavors to the fullest.

Arno Oberseider, Mr. Gullet, is portrayed by Erna Plotter who is employed by Aubrey for the understanding the dissertations of the lawyer Mr. Gullet, who attempts to convey the full meaning of the will to Aubrey. Throughout the part of Joan Renard, wife of Aubrey, she will be unable to determine which of the "twins" is of the male sex and which may be kissed.

The production staff which has been selected for the play is as follows:

Business manager, Martin Ackermann.

Stage manager, Herbert Zech.

Assistant stage manager, Walter Schultheis.

Publicity manager, Mark Huss.

Assistant property manager, Elsie Boss.

Electrician, Raymond Kronemann.

Program chairman, Leroy Jungmeyer.

Head usher, Opal Gerdts.

Tickets for the play are now on sale.

CANDLE SERVICE SET FOR DEC. 13

Pre-Theologians Sponsor the Christmas Program for Wartburg Students.

A candle-light service, memorial to the late Dr. Martin Luther, faculty of Wartburg college, will be given Dec. 13, at 7:30 p. m. in the convocation room of Luther hall on the college campus. This will be the first program sponsored by the newly formed group.

The adornment of evergreen boughs and trees and candle light will create a solemn atmosphere for the program. Christmas songs and scripture readings will be given by the group as a part of the service.

The program will open with a processional, singing congregation of the Old Testament followed by the fulfillment of the Old Testament. These readings will be read between the singing of the Reformation verses.

The songs will be sung by the mixed octet, the male quartet, the male chorus, and the Wartburg Bessie Hymns will also be sung by the entire group.

The committees in charge are: General committee, Harold Wagner and Erwin Nolte; decoration committee, Lucille Bartz, Norma Lang, Ida Lee and Lenore Friedrich; music committee, Albert Gaertzlff and John Kuehne, and Leonard Fritschel.

Miss Bernice Ward spent this last week end visiting in Shellrock, Ia.

Use Lutheran Christmas seals on letters and packages.

AFTER FOOTBALL . . . BASKETBALL

When the football season is past basketball is not far behind. These two sports which were experienced during the combats staged on Wartburg's football field of this past season are now full memories. The factor which, still more than anything else to result to our minds these experiences is the weather at the time they occurred. We have already been rewarded to our grid-Knights. Therefore, the student body would greatly appreciate seeing as many "W's" worn on and off the campus as possible.

Still Lingers.

However, when we think of the Navy 6-7-0 victory over the Army and the recent Notre Dame-Southern California game we cannot deny that the spirit of football is still hovering over us. But as we gather in the gym for the hundreds of colleges and universities all over our land we cannot help but conclude that the basketball season is not far off. So it is with Wartburg. Basketball is looming in the foreground. The Knights are putting in concentrated daily practices so that they may be a good team among among the members of the surrounding conferences. With this aim in mind our team will take their games rigid from the start and score up impressive totals each game.

Applies to Everyone

The sports page is not the only coming event by increasing columns of news of basketball prospects. Higher education implies many things, and perhaps to many of us it means the evening of the sporting season. Let us keep it going so we can do our part by understanding our team and by giving them all the support we can.

WHAT DO THE STUDENTS READ?

The hundreds of dollars spent each year to equip and maintain the college reading room is a worthy project if it should very definite results in the reading habits of the students. It is not the purpose of this room to provide the periodicals should serve only as sources for rounded reading for definite study, and secondly, for immediate, but that reading which we call cultural or recreational. The problem then arises. How much of this latter type of reading is done by the students? Do the students keep pace with the results noticeable in the use of periodicals. Since a very special effort was made for the purchase of a considerable number of new periodicals this year, this increased use would surely prove the wisdom of supplying a variety of good, up-to-date reading material. Fiction, travel, biographical, historical, and science appear to be the preferred types. It seems apparent that there is a decided preference for variety of popular science periodicals. Literary, sociological, and religious magazines would be well worth more attention than they are given. It is hoped that the more scholarly, standard periodicals are preferred to non-illustrated, with perhaps the exception of the Reader's Digest.

Newspapers

Newspapers are diligently read, both daily and local. School exchanges are also read although they always serve as stimulation for others than the news reporters. Many of those received are not of outstanding merit. The Sunday edition of the New York Times is perhaps the most favored among the newspapers, although perhaps any set manner of its presence is far from ideal.

Although many new books were added to the library at the beginning of the school year, the problem of the limited funds of the library prevent the acquisition of more at present. But we hope, nevertheless, a great store of live, valuable and interesting material may be added for the pleasure of those the students accustomed with it. With the exception of fiction, and, to a lesser extent, travel, the recreational reading of books needs decided encouragement. The many fine volumes of spiritual books, inspirational biographies, popular science, sociology, and literature are not read as they should unless required. Recreational reading is a habit that may have to be acquired, but it will bear a worthy result. "Browsing" is an excellent step toward reading. It is the first step toward becoming familiar with what is at hand. No one can eulogize on the value of reading when he is not as actually seeing a book. The "open shelf" policy of our library is maintained in order that students may have the opportunity to examine for themselves the great store of worthy literature to be found on the shelves.

SEMINARY NOTES

Dr. Theo. Benze, a graduate of the medical staff in our New Guinea mission field, spent several days here last week. During his visit Dr. Benze delivered several addresses and also had a group of pictures of missionary and medical work in New Guinea.

The exercises were held last week of the seminary assembly.

Pres. F. H. Knubel delivered an address at the anniversary celebration of St. John's congregation, Madison, Wis., on Sunday, 22.

John Kammerer, junior, intends to went to Milwaukee for treatment at the Lutheran hospital.

Prof. W. Arndt is engaged in the translating meeting during the Christmas recess of the Concordia college, Rock Island, Ill.

Dr. M. Jos. and Prof. S. Schlenker spent Wednesday in Madison. Guy is asked a continued meeting of the Dubuque and Waterloo conferences.

The board of regents met here last Tuesday for the regular spring business. The installation of the Rev. Lauterbach pastor of St. Jagnow took place last evening. Addresses were given by Rev. F.

Strange Creatures Find No Sympathy in Wartburg Hall

Corporal Punishment Is Inflicted As Last Resort.

A frightened midget child screaming from room to room one November night, long after the hour of official retirement for Wartburg dormitories.

Jerna had found a mouse under the bedclothes. Jerna had found the little mouse had only whelps. Jerna had found the little mouse had returned the last of the whelps from the tiny sweatpea. But still Jerna was not sure what else, if one seen screaming in the midget.

Awakened all sorts of sounds, the alder of the Glades came to the rescue. Jerna was escorted from the redoubt from the death-dealing attacker and triumphantly bore it through the second floor hall. Excitement reigned and the news spread like wildfire. "A darling little mouse!" "Oh, how cute!" were words never spoken. "I'm sure he's very much afraid of me, only to die so soundly were among the ensuing comments.

Jerna, however, did not agree. Jerna was not amused by the assertions of the mouse. "Darling" and "cute" were words Jerna could not understand.

Soon peace was restored and the mouse was left in the first floor room. But imagine her surprise when, on the following day, Jerna christened "Sofie" lying in state upon the floor. Jerna, in her excitement over the affair, this time ended the mouse's misery, which was very definitely disposed of "Sofie" was.

But the story does not end here. Jerna's mother was informed. During vacation his good—or rather bad—deed was discovered. She frightened maiden to seek the mouse's home.

And in the conclusion, Jerna was punished.

ORGANIZATIONS

Round Table

The Round Table in Spain was the current topic brought to members by Professor Hoyer Thompson in Chemistry at the meeting held Tuesday evening, December 1.

Prof. Ottenberg treated the subject from the point of view of a spectator, pointing out its causes and effects. He also gave a resume of the possible entanglements of the situation.

In light of recent news developments, the meeting was held at the C. J. Neumann home. At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed.

Pre-Theological

The new Constitution for the Pre-Theological Club was read discussed and adopted at a meeting held Tuesday evening, Nov. 24.

Paul Wenner and Franklin Hoffmann were elected to the offices of president and secretary-treasurer respectively. It also decided that the club should sponsor a social period service to be held Sunday evening, Dec. 13, in the convocation hall.

German Club

Members of the German club met in the lounge of Wartburg hall Tuesday evening, November 24 at 6:00.

Following a short business meeting a social program was given. Dorothy Hoffmann played a German piece, and Theophile Kuhlmann and Ruth Gobrecke trumpet solo. Maude Bin Ish gave a piano solo. Miss Elizabeth Koethe and Miss Lou accompanied the group in singing German songs.

Refreshments were then served and the meeting adjourned.

E. Mortenson of Cleveland, the Wartburg representative and by the Japanese President Roosevelt, Secretary of State and Senator Borah during a recent interview.

The Wartburg Quartette, which had been discontinued for a number of years, is reorganized recently. Approximately 30 students attended the first rehearsal at which officers were elected. Dr. A. Zagow has been appointed to direct the chorus which will meet twice a week.

Modern Soliloquies

"Say, she was certainly swell looking on Saturday night. I'll be so nice—looked like a million dollars now I wonder if she noticed her before. Hi, roomie, where have you been?"

"Down town. Bought my sis an evening wrap. Say, it was a peach like it."

"Aw, that's pretty smooth, I'll bet she'll like that!"

"Well, I guess I'll set me back a buck and a half. I'm going down to the show. Say, what's playing?"

"Song! . . . Christmas present, eh? . . . what a line. Now, think I'll buy her one and . . . Say, what's playing at Grimmer Grimmer . . . Oh there it is. I'll write a poem and send it with the present. My own original, by Jingle Whippadoo. How will I start? Let's see

Sweet heart I love you
With your eyes of blue.

Aw, that won't work. I'll give her a line of dope instead.

When I first saw you
With your eyes of blue.

Hmm, that's better. Wonder what I'd have looked more carefully. Maybe I'd better use eyes that eyes.

Like the stars in the sky
Is the twinkle in your eyes.

May co in a pinch — I'd better be getting busy I'll never get a date if I keep on writing like this. Better forget her eyes and start on something else. Have to have a hint to find suggestions. Gypsy Lou, Longfellow, Zarzuela . . . Longfellow's got something sort of good. Let's see

Tell me not in mournful numbers
Life is but an empty dream . . .

Nope to sit in jail with. Why I have started in the act of writing poetry in high school. Always did say I had great possibilities if I'd simply apply myself. I'll try another trend of thought . . .

Accept this little gift from me
Which is a token of my love
With . . .

"Still up, roomie? Why the wistful look and pensive facial expression? Business bothering you tonight?"

"No, okay, only need a present to Grace what do you send with a girl you've known very well for three years?"

"I've got a bunch of old graduation cards with my name and address on 'em. Send her a Washee and stick one in with the present. Good night. See you in the morning."

"Ah! My writing is fine to have such a small roommate . . . Waterproof basket here is where you get the thrill of your life. You will generally find a versatile array of poem originally destined for the fair sex, but now condemned to an ashen grave.

Ah! What a start with my imagination cards . . .

THANKSGIVING TALK GIVEN BY REV. KARSTEN

Matthias and Wilke Speak on Current Religious Topics.

Another interesting series of convocation speakers addressed the student body during the past few weeks. The speakers were Rev. A. F. Karsten of Alta Vista, Iowa; Rev. P. C. Matthias of Dunbar, Iowa; Rev. O. Wilke of Marble Rock, Iowa; Professor Colberman spoke concerning the Christmas season and Reformation Day and Xmas.

A Thanksgiving message was brought to the student body on Nov. 25 by Rev. A. F. Karsten. He spreaded to the students to square their accounts with the Giver of all good gifts by a thankful heart and a genuine Christian life.

"Wilke nem de Rad under obligation when they owe others, they are liable to forget the debt they owe God. Surely we are not treating the Lord our God right unless we make every effort to pay Him!

"There are so many blessings which He heaps upon us that we don't even think about it. Must I remind you of the greatest blessing of all, that we were bought at an enormous price and given to us freely?"

Rev. P. C. Matthias spoke about our most precious possession, our soul, on Nov. 30. He admonished the assembly, "Watch, God most precious gift, your soul. The fact that you are in a Christian college does not insure safety of your soul. However, you do have advantages since that is the one first purpose in this institution."

The students were privileged to have with them the newly elected Board of Regents of Wartburg college on Nov. 18. The representative of the general president of the American Lutheran Church, Dr. Ylvisaker of Madison, Wis., assured us that the American Lutheran church is wholly interested in the welfare of Wartburg college.

In part Rev. Wilke said, "A nation without religion is a nation of fools and unnecessary. Wartburg college is one of the important and powerful institutions in the American Lutheran church."

On Nov. 9 Professor A. H. Cotterman spoke concerning the spirit of lawlessness and indifference as being the worst enemy of spiritual life. He pointed out how deeply we have become imbedded in materialistic longs.

Professor Cotterman asserted, "We are so engrossed in our everyday routine that we forget devotion. Nothing can justify laxity in Christian life.

"Lukewarmness is dangerous not only for churches, but for individuals as well. It is dangerous but not hopeless. The ashes are found in wood. There are still some embers which may be fanned into flames."

An imaginary trip to Europe was taken by Rev. Gloeckner on Nov. 23.

Dr. Paul H. Kulmus, who recently paid a visit to the plant of the Des Moines Register. He disclosed some startling figures and facts in regard to the huge amounts which are dealt with in publishing a newspaper.

For instance, Prof. Kuhlmann told the audience, "There are $650,000 invested in the presses of the Des Moines Register. A week ago Saturday night 4½ tons of ink and 211 tons of paper were used. A Sunday edition of the New York Times uses enough paper at newspaper width to reach around the earth at the equator."

Professor Kuhlmann went on to point out that readers should be waived in gathering news. The editors of the Register and Tribune get the News York Times $6.50 per word. The value of the telephone and wireless machines was also discussed.

"Advertising" was the subject of a lecture given by Prof. C. J. Moeckel, head of the commercial department, on Dec. 4. This group pointed out that the millions of dollars spent for advertising are well invested in America.

Professor Moeckel stated: "The evident result of advertising is a lower cost of distribution. The increase in demands of a product usually result in larger production with a corresponding reduction in cost. Advertising is made possible for the benefit of all concerned."

The necessity of definitely Christian philosophy of life was stressed by Rev. Wiederaenders on Nov. 17. He pointed to the fact that wrong ideas are found especially in our schools.

"The right sort and attitude of a Christian college should prove to be a powerful influence in the world. Religion is now to make it clear and positive.

"Christianity is at strife with materialism. The subtle tendency is to credit the human mind and the pupil the thought of the rugged individual."

On Nov. 24 awards were given to the members of the varsity debate squad and brief talks were given by each squad. Prof. Carl Mickelick, Arthur Nickel, captain, of this year's team, and Arnold Kuester, next years captain.

The Christian College Is Free

Dr. George A. Coe, in his recent book, "Educating for Citizenship," calls attention to the need in the American educational scheme of the private institution. He definitely says, "It is safe to say that privately controlled institutions as a class, even denominationally controlled colleges, have a more diffused and penetrating civic educational influence than state universities and colleges as a whole . . . Readers who are grudgingly heard upon denominational campuses are kept at the grounds of some state universities.

A professor who has had long experience in state universities was heard to say, concerning a matter of public concern, 'That is a constitutional question; it does not belong upon the campus.' In the Bulletin of the American Association of University Professors for November 1931, a professor writes: 'No one connected with a private school need go to what the overgrown state universities or denominational schools in our state would be called upon to take where important issues are involved.'—Noted in the Presbyterian News Bulletin.

CHURCH CHOIR GIVES CONCERT

Song Program Receives Many Compliments from an Inspired Audience.

A sacred concert was given by St. Paul's choir on Nov. 13 under the direction of Prof. E. G. Heist.

The program consisted of the following numbers:

Choir—Let All the World in Every Corner Sing—Elvery

Choir—Rejoice in the Lord, O Ye Faithful—Baines

Solos—The Ninety and Nine—Compton—John Ruebe; Helen Wetterling, accompanist.

Choir—Now to the Sunset—Sullivan.

Chorus—Rest Beneath Night's Shadows—Rosenmueller.

Duet—My Task Is Done—Hosmer—Raymond Eckstein, Otto Henkel.

Solo—My Soul is Athirst for God—Stickles—Margaret Pruehs.

Choir — Hallelujah, Amen!—Handel.

Solo With Chorus—The Evening Hour—Otto Haskel.

Solo—Now the Day Is Over—Spross—Irma Schreiber.

Quartet—Bless the Lord—Tipped-Tyner—Rosenquest — Eckstein, soprano; Lorraine Eckstein, alto; Otto Henkel, tenor; Gleim Boysen, bass.

Violin Solo—Berceuse—Godard —Lorraine Eckstein, Rosamond Eckstein accompanist.

One of the prominent exercises of the evening was never heard by St. Paul's choir before who greatly surprised when he listened to the concert. He said he did not think that anything like that was possible in Waverly and that it was the finest choir he had heard since he left Iowa State University a year and a half ago.

Following the sacred concert the choir was entertained by the ladies aid. The president, Mrs. Irma Pressel presented Professor Heist with a beautiful bouquet as a token of appreciation for his services as pianist and choir director at St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Egede's Life Is Topic of Luther League Address

The life and work of Hans Egede was the subject of Dr. G. J. Neumann's address at the meeting of the Luther League held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church Sunday evening, Nov. 22. In his talk Dr. Neumann brought out the hardships and trials which were the lot of the great Lutheran missionaries and the establishing a mission post among the Eskimos in Greenland.

Other numbers on the program were a clarinet solo by Mae Cain, accompanied at the piano by Erna Plotter, and a piano solo by Helen Wetterling.

A social, at which refreshments were served, followed the meeting. The social committee in charge consisted of Erwin Kuhl, chairman, Phyllis Popp, Evelyn Loots, and Otto Feuhrer.

Wartburgers Favored By Chorus Numbers

The mixed chorus gave the first public concert during the convocation period on Nov. 19. The program was as follows:

I Will Praise Thee, O Lord—Peace.

Kling Klang—Klug.

Solo—Thanks Be to God—Reiby—Walter Priebe; Helen Wetterling, accompanist.

Let Their Celestial Concerts All Unite—Handel

Miss Wilma Rider was in town City, Saturday, Dec. 5.

TWENTY CAGERS REPORT FOR '37 HOOP SCHEDULE

Independence First Game Here on Dec. 8.

A squad of twenty men, including six lettermen headed by Captain Edward Harden will open their 1936-37 basketball season on the home floor against Independence Dec. 8.

The team has an ambitious schedule of 17 games lined up, 8 with Iowa conference foes, but Coach Herbert Read said that the prospects for this year's team look bright with several men coming up from last years freshmen squad, and not seeing any veteran who looks very promising.

The veterans reporting for practice are Capt. Edward Harden and Robert Wegner, Waverly, Ia., and Walter Luetkens, Logan-ville, Wis., forwards; Arthur Nickel, Almena, Wis., center; Earnest Oppermann, Strawberry Point, Ia., and Harry Reppuh, Grafton, Ia., guards.

Among the men coming up from the Freshmen of last year are: David Chichester, Sumner, Ia.; Earl Heist, Waverly; Ross Nelson, Shell Rock, and Carl Kohlwaert, Finnegan, Ill., while the new men who look most promising are: Herbert Paul, Preston, Ia.; Norman Beeker, Fond du Lac, Wis.; William Bergmeyer, Columbus, Ind.; Carl Fliermeier, Fairfield, Neb.; Otto Fuhlert, Plattsburgh, Mo.; Sigmund Sandrock, Bellevue, Ia., and T. M. Early, Dumont, Ia.

Four Games.

After the season opener against Independence here the Knights will travel away for their three remaining games before the Christmas vacation. Iowa Pre-Flight will be met at Cedar Rapids, Ia., a strong team from the 1936 schedule, and then Coach Paul McSpadden will take the Knights to Mason City to meet another Junior College, Hamburg, at Iowa Falls, on Dec. 16, and finish the pre-vacation games against Central at Pella, Dec. 18.

ASK ACK

By Serthe Ackermann

And now we come to that issue of the paper that all sports writers of school papers dread—the issue between two major sports. It is always a problem just how to fill the sports page. I would like to run a full page section of the Kalsergianem Kids or Little Audrey stories, but I know that doesn't scintillate sports, so meanwhile we'll just do the best we can—and here.

Cross Country Is B. T. Team.

It looks as if the 1937 edition of cross country will be better than ever; better than the one of last year, which copped the Tri-State conference. The team will really have to work for runnings this coming ? and maybe it'll lown conference games, but with the Knights showing the fighting spirit that they had last year I think we ought to win our full percentage and really show how we stack up with the Iowa conference. Let's get out and help the boys from the start on Dec. 8 all the way to the finish. A group of spectators during practice helps instill the old spirit into the men.

"Wally" Langholz.

Although the gridiron season is over, the name of Wally is not one to be forgotten. And it is not likely that it will be forgot "Wally" Langholz of Mason City, Iowa, who sustained an injured shoulder before the season started and in the first game upon returning he had it dislocated out of place again, and was unable to play the rest of the season. He is the only man in our section for all the suffering he went through. It is coincidental even like him who, upon injury, kept saying that he would be more sorry later on that maybe football really wasn't his game. Lots of luck, Wally.

Between Halves.

Between the halves of any athletic contest there's a lull which produces a "let-down" feeling in spectators. In basketball especially the attention is so concentrated that very much nothing could be worked up to fill up this period. I think it should be the duty of the Pep club to take care of this and organize a varied and distinct form of entertainment, some of which there are only 7 days ahead of.

Ack Predicts.

Well, I am going to try once more. Last time for the Cross Christmas-vacation games. In the first game of the season, on Dec. 8 against Independence here, the Knights will go to the tune of 33-21 margin. Last year Wartburg turned back Independence twice, 26-20 and 43-27. The Hornets then engage Iowa Pre-Flight conference team at Cedar Rapids. The game with Upper Iowa will be dropped 37-28, but two days later they will set back Iowa Falls 46-27. The final game of the season will be another victory to the tune of 36-31.

Rovings.

It is not my right to go over a few highlights of last year's football season, but I'm putting the moments at the games by the following results: Losing to Luther 37-31 victory over Milwaukee Tech, Wartburg's first Tri-State title . . . Big discussion about turning the town conference into a 7-8 team or Ruhlyenhies having a great brainstorm . . . Dropping only first two games . . . Prof. Oberheu reporting Reuters . . . Intramural games being very well fought . . . Coach Read discovering if it were worth it . . . First game . . . Independence . . . Dec. 8.

GROSS TO HEAD WOMEN SPORTS

Allyn, Gluck, Wrolstad, Propp Other Officers; Plan Point System

At a recent meeting of the Wartburg women it was decided to organize a Women's Athletic association. There are now 80 women enrolled in the organization. The following officers were elected: Ilsa Allyn, vice president; Florence Allyn, vice president; Ione Gluck, treasurer; Belen Wrolstad, secretary and Phyllis Propp, sports chairman. Miss Ruth Sydow is sponsor.

A constitution was also adopted which will have a point system for awarding sports. 200 points are required for a numeral, 800 for a W. A. A. emblem and 1,000 for a letter. These points may be earned in various ways, for example: One point a mile in hiking or 4 points an hour in such sports as basketball, volley ball, tennis etc. At the end of the school year an honor award will also be given to the most outstanding and representative girl in the club.

Health Rules.

In order to be eligible for any award she must have attended at least a set of health rules for one month. These rules are getting enough sleep, getting enough fresh air, proper diet and health habits in general. A trophy must have earned forty points and Section II. adopted to make application for membership.

The association will sponsor competitive sports for all the girls of the college. A trophy will also be awarded to the most outstanding girl in the club.

The group also aims at becoming a member of the National Athletic association.

Faculty Bowlers Have Tough Time

The faculty bowling team has been having a difficult time down at the Packard Alleys, but they have been making real progress in the last few weeks and hope to hit their stride soon and really bowl 'em over.

The team has been handicapped by the small number of men showing up for the games. Sometimes there were not enough there to compose a full team, which brings the faculty score down considerably, but now a regular team of Chadwood, Hertel, Kuhlmann, Fritz, Huebner and Haas will try to uphold the faculty honor.

Lose by One Pin.

A bit of hard luck also came the faculty way last week when they lost to the Firemen 2 team by one single pin. You will be able to see your faculty team in action in its next two games on Dec. 10 and 16.

NEW CAGE RULES FOR '37 SEASON

New Center Circle; Other Changes Made for this Season.

There have been several major changes in the basketball rules for the 1936-37 season. In order to have a complete understanding of the game it is necessary to know these changes. All the changes can be found in the Goldsmith edition on sale at the library, but the major changes are as follows:

1. Around the center circle there shall be a concentric circle with a 6 ft. radius; this circle must be a total line 2 inches in width. Measurement should be from center of center circle to inside of the concentric circle.

2. A team may take a time-out 4 times during the game.

3. The ball in possession of the team shall be in charge of the player who last put the ball in play, shall continue to be in charge and the goal to be allowed.

4. A player upon admission to the game may substitute at any time his team-mates at once.

5. When a defensive player touches the hands or hand of a player who is in possession of the ball while the player has one or both hands on the ball, he shall not be considered as committing a fouling foul.

6. The 3-second rule shall not apply to an offensive player except in so that half of the circle furthest from the basket.
